Brown and Higday Capture Knoxville Season Openers (Pizza Hut/Lions Club Night)

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (April 21) - Brian Brown and Josh Higday showed the fast way around the world-famous Knoxville Raceway oval and celebrated feature event wins during the track's 54th season opener Saturday night.

Brown, who started 17th in the field of twenty-four, was probably given little chance of winning the season opener by the gathered crowd due to the fact that the track surface had turned hard, dry and slick by the end of the night of racing on it. That and the new harder compound tire rule in effect for the 2007 season would make it extremely difficult to move forward in the twenty lap race, most thought.

But, Brown did move forward quickly and by the half-way point was sitting in the runner-up spot and enjoying a dynamic battle for that position with fifth row starter Ricky Logan. Both had managed to chase down race leader Skip Jackson. While Jackson and Brown made their living on the high cushion, Logan found the bottom to his liking.

Laps 10-14 proved to be exciting as it was never certain who would fly by the flagstand with the lead. However, lap 14 was the deciding circuit as both Brown and Logan slid Jackson going into turn one. When they came around the half-mile oval to the start/finish line, a blanket finish showed Brown to be slightly ahead of Logan. From that point to the end Brown was in control but Logan kept it so interesting. Jackson stayed close to that duo as Kaley Gharst (started 16th) came into contention,

As Brown began to pull away ever so slowly, Jackson, Logan and Gharst were having a dog fight for the runner-up slot. On lap eighteen Jackson spun his sprinter in turn four and sat sideways on the track as all oncoming traffic missed him. He was relegated to the tail and finished fifteenth.

When the race resumed, a sudden 5-car melee occurred in turn one, taking four cars to the pits. It was during that red-flag stoppage that it was noted that Brown's right-rear tire was ready for the trash barrel. Once the race went green, Brown did not baby his equipment provided by Wise Guy Motorsports. Brown forced his Maxim full tilt around that final lap to take the $3,000 checkers just ahead of Logan. Surprisingly, B-Main winner and 19th position starter Scott Winters had forged his way to third. Gharst maintained fourth and Dennis Moore, Jr. came through the pack to take fifth. Dustin Lindquist, Randy Anderson, Dusty Zomer, Mark Dobmeier and Brent Antill completed the top ten finishers.

Josh Higday began etching his name on the top line of the Knoxville Championship Cup Series end-of-the-year trophy as he simply ran away and hid from the 20-car field in the 360 division. Higday led every single lap from his pole position start and was so fast that he began entering lap traffic by the seventh circuit. Quickly he extended his lead to a full straightaway over second running Chuck Swenson.

In a feature race that went non-stop, Higday would eventually guide his Snodgrass Eagle to a half-lap lead before the race went checkered for this new team. If one was not watching Higday masterfully plow through traffic then one had to be guessing who would take second. In the end, Jeff Mitrison captured that spot with Swenson settling for third. Track rookie Bryan Dobesh came home fourth and John Kearney took fifth. Rounding out the top ten finishers were Dustin Selvage, Jake Peters, Rick Ideus, Brett Mather and Mike Houseman, Jr.

Fegers Is the Victor in Knoxville Spring WDRL Late Models

by Bob Wilson

Knoxville, IA - Justin Fegers wrote his name into the record books at Knoxville Raceway as he captured the WDRL (World Dirt Racing League) feature event Friday night. Historically the race marked the 40th major late model stock car championship in the track's history.

Pole sitter Chad Simpson took the early point as he cruised around the top of the big half-mile oval. Fellow front row starter Jimmy Mars stayed close to Simpson and challenged him but mechanical problems force the Wisconsin driver to the pits by the sixth go around. That left Denny Eckrich to take up the chase and he did so until he too dropped after a dozen laps.

That yellow allowed Fegers, a fifth row starter to pull in behind Simpson on the restart. Fegers had his hands full as Darren Miller (from 20th) began to challenge for the runner-up spot too. Lap 16 saw Miller momentarily take the lead as he flew out of turn two but a bumping incident in the next corner found Miller nearly into the turn three fence. That cost Miller several spots as well as chassis problems. Two laps later he too was parked in his pit stall.

Simpson continued in the top spot and in fact built a small lead over Fegers but the eventual winner began to reel-in the fleet Simpson. Lap twenty saw a blanket finish with Simpson just edging Fegers but the next pass of the flag stand found Fegers in the lead. This would not be the final lead change as four laps later Brian Harris took it away with a run on the cushion in turns three and four. Harris looked as if he might be the eventual winner until Fegers re-passed him on the 27th lap. At this point, Fegers now had the lead for good.

Though no one knew the winning car was in the lead for good, the Mound, Minnesota driver kept his foot in it and built a half-a-chute lead over second running Dave Eckrich. Passing the languishing Harris on the 33rd circuit was Kelly Boen. Boen had a story that reflected the excellent condition of the track as he was running near the front early in the race, spun his mount and restarted at the tail of the 26-car field. As the race was winding down, Boen had once again caught the leaders.

In the end it was Fegers in his Mastersbilt Chassis taking the $5,000 to win 40-lap event. Dave Eckrich came across the stripe in second while the hapless Boen captured third. Kyle Berck drove a steady race to finish fourth and Simpson held on to take fifth. Rounding out the top ten finishers were Harris, John Kaanta, Jason Utter, Ray Guss (started 22nd) and John Anderson (who started beside Guss). Out of the top ten drivers, five could be counted as regulars in the West Liberty (IA) weekly racing program. The entire purse was shown to be $24,000. 47 late models went through the paces on this night.

In a companion division of 305 sprints, former Knoxville Raceway competitor Steve Breazeale made a last lap pass to emerge the winner. The 12-lap feature found Zach Clark leading after one lap. He was soon passed by Clint Garner who held that spot for three rounds. Up from a third row start came teenager Trish Dover as she roared by on the low side exiting turn two to take the lead.

What looked to be a Dover win suddenly went sour as she suffered a flat right-rear tire under a lap nine yellow flagged slowdown. She was able to get the tire changed but had to restart from the tail before she came back for a eighth place finish.

Garner then inherited the lead on the restart but was caught on the final lap by Breazeale in his Bruce Clark owned sprinter. Garner was disqualified from his second place finish when he failed to make weight at the scales. Matt Stevenson, Tom Lenz, Clark and Chad Houston rounded out the top five finishers. Twenty-four 305s signed in for the competition. For a complete race rundown simply go to the RESULTS section of the menu bar.

Schatz Captures WoO Knoxville Spring Sprint Show

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (April 28) Donnie Schatz still has command of the Knoxville oval. After winning last year's Knoxville Nationals Schatz again guided his Schatz-owned J & J to a 25-lap WoO (World of Outlaws) win Saturday night at Knoxville Raceway. The win paid the North Dakotan $10,000.

Schatz, who shared the front row of the feature event with Aussie Kerry Madsen, took a narrow lead at the end of one lap. Madsen stayed true to his line and roared around the top of the track to take the second circuit by no more than half a car length. Both men kept focused, Schatz on the bottom and Madsen on the top. And, that focus would stay that way to the end of the race.

By lap four Joey Saldana had come into contention on the bottom and quickly made a pass of Madsen. Once by Saldana set his sight on the front runner and made some headway until he was hindered by lap traffic on the seventh go around. That's when Schatz quickly put some distance between them.

At the conclusion of five miles, Schatz was up by eight car lengths and surprisingly Jason Meyers had utilized the bottom to bring himself into the third spot. Two laps later Saldana was close enough to make a move and as he and Schatz roared out of turn two, Saldana took the lead with the low line after the leader had drifted high. The following lap saw all three drivers running nose to tail out of turn two and down the back chute. At the end of 15 laps the books showed Saldana, Schatz, Meyers, Madsen and Terry McCarl in that order.

It was lap 15 that saw Schatz retake the lead in the same spot where he had relinquished it earlier. After Saldana had slid high in turn two, Schatz dove low and exited turn two as the leader once again. One lap later the caution flag flew for a stalled car on the track.

On the restart it was Madsen who made the most of the situation as he quickly made passes of Meyers and Saldana by roaring around the top. Though Madsen had made a good drive on the restart it was easy to see that the bottom was becoming the preferred line. Suddenly the red flag was shown for a wreck in turn two involving Steve Kinser and Paul McMahan. Kinser was able to restart despite having to change the top wing from the easy end.

When the race went green again, it was obvious that the bottom was now the quickest way around this legendary half-mile oval. Saldana regained the runner-up spot on lap twenty-three as Madsen refused to concede his high line which was within feet of Knoxville's high white turn fences. Just as Schatz took the white flag, the final caution was shown for Madsen, who had stopped just off the pit entrance. His efforts to put one in the books from the high cushion would yield a 21st position finish.

In the end, it was Schatz and Saldana running first and second, just as they had done at the 2006 Knoxville Nationals the previous August. Meyers was credited with a strong third place finish. Craig Dollansky (started 12th) made a late race pass to claim fourth and McCarl settled for fifth. Rounding out the top ten finishers were Tim Shaffer, Daryn Pittman, Danny Lasoski, Brooke Tatnell and Jason Solwold who started 21st. Fifty-eight cars competed on the night.

The companion 360 sprint division saw Chuck Swenson take top laurels at the end of the 15-lap run. At first it looked as if Josh Higday was going to run away and hide as he had done one week ago. However a yellow at the end of lap three saw Higday's huge lead melt as the cars were placed nose to tail for a single file restart.

On that restart, Swenson found the bottom to his liking in turns one and two and roared past Higday coming off the bottom of turn two. It was a position the Watertown, South Dakota driver would never relinquish.

Lap eight saw three-time and defending track champion Jake Peters take over second as he also had gone to the bottom of the track. That relegated Higday to third and he was followed closely by Johnny Anderson.

With less than five laps to go, Swenson entered some heavy lap traffic and it looked as if his pursuers might be able to make something from it. Though the traffic was heavy and preferred lines had to be changed, all of the front running cars faced the same obstacles and only Higday was able to gain one position on the final lap. In the end it was Swenson taking his second career feature-event win here. Higday, Peters, Anderson and Jeff Mitrison completed the top five. Rounding out the top ten of this division were Mike Houseman, Jr., John Kearney, Bret Mather, Gregg Bakker (started 15th) and John Hall. Thirty-nine cars competed in events during the night.

Lindquist and Dobesh are New Winners at Knoxville Raceway

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (May 5, 2007) Dustin Lindquist and Bryan Dobesh became first-time winners at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night. Both men are rookies in their respective divisions.

Lindquist, a Floodwood, Minnesota pilot driving for veteran owner Guy Forbrook, did not lead at the outset as those laurels went to pole sitter Ricky Logan. Logan found the cushion to his liking in the early going as Lindquist, who started right beside him, trailed at a close distance. In fact, Lindquist was using the low line in turns three and four to close the gap on Logan on each go around.

With five laps in the books, Logan began entering lap traffic. As he focused toward turn three, a slower car impeded his line on the cushion. That is when Lindquist dove to the bottom and grabbed the lead. Once in front, Logan was unable to stay with him. Three laps later, Dusty Zomer made a pass of Logan to take the runner-up spot.

At the five-mile mark of this 20-lap race, the top five showed Lindquist, Zomer, Logan, Randy Anderson and Brian Brown who had marched all the way from seventh row start. The next lap saw a yellow thrown for a spun car, robbing Lindquist of the huge lead he had built.

On the restart Lindquist again pulled away in his Maxim/Mopar. Soon, Anderson gained third and it was at this point that B-Main winner Kaley Gharst made his presence known having started in row ten. Again, no one was able to keep up with the pace the leader was blazing toward a $3,000 payday.

Lap 18 saw the final caution flag for a spun Dennis Moore, Jr. who had been running eighth. With but two laps to go, Lindquist again pulled away from the field to record his first ever feature event win on Knoxville soil. Anderson made a late race pass to claim second, Zomer was third, Gharst took an amazing fourth and Logan registered fifth. Rounding out the top ten finishers were Brown, Wayne Johnson, Billy Alley, Skip Jackson from a tail-end start and Mark Dobmeier. 34 cars signed through the pit gate.

In the 360 sprint division, Bryan Dobesh led the entire 15-lap distance while recording his first feature event win at Knoxville. Dobesh took the immediate lead at the outset as he found the fast way around the half-mile oval to be on the cushion which on this night was no more than half way up on all four turns. His nearest competitor was Josh Schneiderman who pushed the Sioux Falls (S. Dak.) driver in the early stages.

Though one red flag slowed the event, Dobesh slowly pulled away from Schneiderman and had nearly a twenty car-length lead just past the half-way point. Behind those two drivers it was anyone's race for third as Pete Crall, John Hall and Jake Peters contested for that spot to the end.

Dobesh pushed his self-owned Maxim to a near straightaway win as the checkers flew at the end. Schneiderman claimed second with Crall staging a career best third. Peters and Hall rounded out the top five. Completing the top ten were Johnny Anderson, Josh Higday from row eight, Jeff Mitrison, Joe Beaver and Natalie Sather from row seven. Thirty-seven cars participated in the six-event program.

Zomer Takes Knoxville/IRA Challenge; Kearney is 360 Victor

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (May 12) Dusty Zomer captured his first career feature event win at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night during the 8th annual IRA (Interstate Racing Association) Challenge. The Sioux Falls (S. Dak.) driver received $3,000 for his efforts.

Zomer, who started on the pole was never challenged during the 20-lap feature event. At the drop of the green flag he slid to the top of the half-mile oval and rode the cushion to a quick lead. By lap six he had entered lap traffic but had put a full straightaway between himself and second running Scott Young. Though he was at times in heavy traffic he was able to put his self-owned Schnee/Wesmar about anywhere on the track and run hard.

At the half-way point his lead had soared to nearly a half lap over his nearest competitor. Young still trailed but he had his hands full with Lynton Jeffrey who had started tenth. The track was not quite a typical Knoxville surface as it had become dry-slick shortly into the qualifying heat events. What's more, no real bottom existed. For this feature event, the quickest way around was the high cushion which kept creeping ever closer to the high, white fences.

By lap 15, Zomer again faced heavy traffic. At a distance Jeffrey had taken second while Kaley Gharst, who had started sixteenth had come into third. Skip Jackson and Young secured the top five.

When it looked as if Zomer would be able to coast to victory, a yellow flag was displayed for Brian Brown whose sprinter had gone up in smoke and stopped on the front chute. The mammoth lead of Zomer would now fall to a single file restart.

On the restart, Zomer defended his turf while Gharst shot under Jeffrey to gain the runner-up spot. Zomer was not to be denied on this night as he grabbed the checkered flag by five car lengths ahead of Gharst. In victory lane Zomer heaped much praise on his chief mechanic Lenard McCarl.

Jeffrey remained third, Jackson fourth and Dustin Lindquist fifth. Completing the top ten were Calvin Landis, Young, Billy Alley, Ricky Logan and Randy Anderson. Fifty-one cars signed-in for the 410 division.

On the 360 side of the coin, John Kearney claimed career feature event number 21 at this historic central Iowa oval.

Pole sitter Matt Moro took the initial with Natalie Sather trailing. It was Josh Higday who was making the show interesting as he kept challenging Sather for her spot. At the end of four laps the red flag was waved for a two-car wreck in the fourth turn.

On the restart, Higday made a run at Sather and both cars came together in the process. Soon Sather began to go backward with a flat left-rear tire. Meanwhile, that same incident caused Higday to lose eight spots as he wound up jumping the cushion. Sather soon pulled into the pit area but Higday continued the chase.

With eight laps in the books, a yellow was displayed for a stopped car on the track. At this point Higday brought his injured sprint to the pits. It was found that the lower radius rod had jammed into the right front shock. With no time for repairs, the Higday machine pushed back off to rejoin the field. Both he and Sather finished way down the line at final tally.

When the race resumed, second running Kearney dove low and slid Moro in turn two. After that Kearney was able to pull away in his K&R Racing Maxim/Wesmar. Moro continued in second though he finished a near straightaway behind at the end. Ryan Roberts drove a steady race to finish third as did Rick Ideus in fourth.

Greg Bakker, who started 12th, came across the stripe for fifth. Jesse Giannetto, Pete Crall, Jake Peters (from 20th), Brett Mather and Dave Hall completed the top ten finishers. Thirty-six cars competed in the 360 division.

Brown and Higday are Repeat Winners at Knoxville

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (May 19) Brian Brown and Josh Higday took feature event wins in their respective divisions at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night. The duo was also winners in the season opener in April.

For Brown the win was nothing short of amazing. His team was behind the eight ball early on when he blew an engine in hot laps. They were able to make a change in time for "Brownie" to take one qualifying time trial where he finished 23rd fastest. In his heat he just made the cut to qualify for the A Main in the 7th row. His work was cut out for him.

A series of caution flags may have helped the Higginsville, Missouri driver as first row two starter Dustin Lindquist was sent to the tail for jumping the start. On the next attempt to start Randy Anderson was forced into the turn one/two fence in a violent series of flips. He seemed to be okay and walked away from the mangled wreck. Then at the end of lap one Tony Lutar looped his sprinter in turn one forcing a single-file restart.

Once the race went green again the fans were treated to competitive racing as pole sitter Ricky Logan took the point and led the field. In back of him Calvin Landis and Skip Jackson contested for the runner-up spot. Jackson grabbed it away and then took the lead on lap four with a slide in turns one and two. One lap later Landis passed Logan for second place. Lap six saw yet another yellow flag, this time for debris.

When the race resumed, Jackson made an excellent restart. Also with big marbles in his hand was Brown who had suddenly surged to fourth in his Wise Guy Motorsports Maxim/Kistler. It was at this time that the fans were treated to some tremendous racing as Brown and Billy Alley fought for the third spot. Each turn saw one or the other slide for the position. The eighth go around was a blanket finish between the two. The issue was finally settled at the half-way point when Brown took third for good.

It was also at this point that Landis had narrowed Jackson's lead to a mere 10-car-lengths. On the thirteenth circuit Brown took the runner-up spot away and began his chase of Jackson. The final yellow flew on the next lap for debris. During this slowdown third-running Landis came into the pits with front end mechanical problems. He did not restart and finished 17th.

The final restart Jackson led Brown around the big Knoxville half-mile oval on the cushion which was three-quarters of the way up the banking of the corners. Brown was slowly inching closer to the Aussie and on the 18th lap he used yet another slider to advance his position to the top. In the end he could declare a 30 car-length win, a $3,000 pay day and his eighth career feature event victory here. Jackson stayed in second, Alley was third, Gharst took fourth and Logan finished in fifth. Dennis Moore, Jr., Dusty Zomer (from 18th), Ryan Anderson, Mark Dobmeier (from 15th) and Lindquist from the tail completed the top ten. 32 cars registered at the pit gate.

Higday repeated his win of one month prior in a race he led from start to finish. He found the top to his liking and placed his Snodgrass Ostrich/Eagle there to begin his trek to victory. His nearest challenger was fellow front row starter Pete Crall. Crall was never able to make a bid as both drivers ran the cushion, Crall waiting for the Higday machine to falter. It never did.

Just at the half-way point Higday could claim a 20-car length advantage. Just prior to this point Johnny Anderson using the bottom of the track was able to take over third from Dave Hall. This was a night to start toward the front as most drivers found it tough going to make advancement.

With but a few laps to go, Higday headed into lap traffic. Luck was with the Des Moines driver on this night as it seemed that each turn found the backmarkers right where Higday needed them to make a quick and easy pass.

In the end, Higday picked up his 14th career feature event win here and a check for $1,750. Completing the top five were Crall, Anderson, Dave Hall, and Bryan Dobesh. Rounding out the top ten were Josh Schneiderman, Jeff Mitrisin, Tyler Thompson, Gregg Bakker and Russ Hall. Thirty-six 360s signed through the pit gate.

Big Night at Knoxville Sees Three Feature Winners During NSCHoF Induction Weekend

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (June 2)-Three new victors were presented on the winner's stage at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night during the National Sprint Car Hall of Fame & Museum (NSCHoF&M) induction weekend. A.J. Weaver was crowned the winner of the 15th annual Masters Classic while Jake Peters and Calvin Landis captured Knoxville Championship Cup Series wins.

The Masters Classic, a race for drivers who are fifty years of age or older, proved to be an exciting race as a nightcap event for the weekend. It had been rained out 24 hours earlier and shortly after the checkered flag fell on the 22-lap sprint, rain began to fall once again.

At the outset it looked to be a runaway for pole sitter Kenny Jacobs. Jacobs, who had been inducted into the NSCHoF just a few hours earlier, roared to a huge and commanding lead until a yellow flew at the end of lap three. Jacobs' then formed a single file restart and that is when A.J. Weaver came into the mix after having started in the eighth row. Lap six saw Weaver pull into the runner-up spot as he began to close on Jacobs.

Jacobs led to the half-way point but Weaver dropped low in turns one and two to take the lead running down the backstretch. While Jacobs circled on the high cushion, Weaver had found a faster way around on the bottom which had taken rubber.

Lap sixteen saw the front running leaders head into lap traffic as Jacobs began to carve away at the Weaver lead. Weaver continued his route around the bottom as Jacobs slowly reeled him in from the high groove. At the end of lap 20 a second yellow was displayed for Roger Rager who had spun into the front stretch guard rail.

With only two laps to go and no traffic ahead of them, Weaver and Jacobs played-out the affair in style as they each utilized their years of racing experience in the run to the checkers. Weaver finished just in front of Jacobs at the end to claim the $3,000 first place prize money. Jacobs took home $2,000. Mike Peters was third, Tim Gee made the tow from Canada pay fourth and Greg Rilat finished fifth.

Calvin Landis captured his third career feature event win in the 20-lap 410 feature event. Landis led from start to finish in a race which saw numerous red and yellow flags in the early portions.

At the outset Landis was chased by Skip Jackson. Jackson stayed in the fray until late in the race when engine problems sidelined him and forced a 17th position finish.

It was eight laps into the race when Billy Alley made a pass of Jackson sending him to third. At the half-way point Landis could claim a 10 car-length lead as he was trailed by Alley, Dusty Zomer, Jackson and Brian Brown. Zomer would take the second spot two laps later.

With so many laps being run on the Knoxville half mile on this night, the cushion was within feet of the tall Knoxville fences. 15 laps down saw most of the frontrunners placing their right rear tires on that cushion. That was also the point when those cars headed into lap traffic. Zomer was one of the few who did not run high and as the laps ran down it was obvious that he was catching Landis by running the bottom. In fact, lap 18 saw those two running nose to tail down the chutes and just when it look as if Zomer would make his move, his car would falter as if loosing power.

Zomer's car, starved for fuel, could not make the pass and Landis took his self-owned Maxim across the stripe to claim the win. Alley was third and Brown came from a 14th start to finish fourth. Jon Corbin, who won the B Main and started 19th drove to fifth. Thirty-two 410 sprinters competed on the evening.

Defending 360 track champion Jake Peters won his first feature of the season in a 15-lap run. Dave Hall led at the outset but Peters ran him down and took the point on the fourth go around. Peters found the top to his liking and was chased by Hall to the end. Behind those two, John Kearney and Jeff Mitrusin locked horns for the duration. In the mix too were Roger Rager and Johnny Anderson.

Just after the five mile mark Peters began to pull away and the question to be settled was who would get second.

In the end, as Peters took the checkered flag in his Schnee/Weseman sprinter, Hall was exiting turn four and would place second. Kearney and Mitrusin were third and fourth respectively while Anderson took the fifth place spot. Forty-seven cars filled the ranks of the 360 division.

In afternoon ceremonies on the fairgrounds proper, the NSCHoF&M held its 18th annual inductions. Newly inducted were Shane Carson, Jerry "Scratch Daniels, Rajo Jack, Kenny Jacobs, Bayless Levrett, Hal Minyard, Earl Gaerte, Joe Jagersberger, Glen Niebel, Emmett Hahn, Ken Coles and Bill White.

Zomer and Peters Repeat as Knoxville Feature Winners

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (June 9) Dusty Zomer and Jake Peters each drove to feature event wins at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night. Both Sioux Falls (S. Dak.) drivers had won previously this season.

Zomer, who started in the third row, chased front row starters Brent Antill and Wayne Johnson in the early going. A yellow flag led to a single file restart and a Zomer pass of Johnson. Right away another yellow was displayed and on the ensuing restart Zomer gave Antill all he could handle for one lap. As that duo forged into lap six, Zomer slid Antill and took the lead as he exited turn two. The top five at this point showed Antill, Skip Jackson, Johnson and Calvin Landis trailing Zomer.

The final slowdown of the race came on lap eight after Landis tagged the fence. Zomer had checked out on the twenty-car field in his Maxim/Weseman with Lenard McCarl on the wrenches.

On lap nine an ugly incident in turn two saw Antill and Brian Brown fall backward. This near gillhooley allowed Kaley Gharst to jump to fifth, just behind Alley. But Brown, who was on a mission, was not finished yet.

As the laps wound down, Zomer entered into lap traffic on the 15th go around. By then, Brown had reclaimed fifth but Zomer had covered the field and was a full chute ahead of second running Jackson.

When the checkers flew, Zomer claimed the $3,000 first place prize money and padded his lead in the Knoxville Championship Cup Series. Jackson, Johnson, Brown and Alley trailed. Completing the top ten finishers were Gharst, Antill, Ricky Logan, Mark Dobmeier and Dennis Moore, Jr., who started 20th. Twenty-seven 410 sprinters competed on the evening.

Defending 360 track champion, Jake Peters made it two feature wins in a row with a sound spanking of the 20-car field in that division. Peters took the lead on lap two and never looked back in claiming his 10th career win here while driving his own Schnee/Weseman.

Behind him a battle brewed for runner-up honors and that honor was claimed by Josh Higday who was unable to challenge Peters on this night. Dave Hall, who led only the first lap, had a career finish in claiming third. Joe Beaver took fourth after having started eleventh. Fifth went to Natalie Sather, who gained the highest finish for a woman in a feature event in the history of this storied track.

Completing the top ten were Jesse Giannetto, Mike Houseman, Jr., Matt Moro, Brett Mather and Greg Bakker. The 360 division saw a field of 36 sprinters.

Lanigan Takes Knoxville WoO Late Model $$$ back to Kentucky

by Bob Wilson

Knoxville, IA – Darrell Lanigan (Union, Ky.) inherited the lead in the latter portion of the World of Outlaws (WoO) Late Model fifty lapper to claim his first WoO win of the season. He also received $10,000 for his efforts here Friday night.

Josh Richards was the man in control of this 25-mile race from the outset. He sailed through three caution flags without difficulty and had the 24-car field covered for most of the distance. He sat on the front row and was in charge right away as fellow front-row starter Lanigan trailed. Richards had pulled to a 10-car advantage by the time the first yellow flag appeared for WoO points leader, Clint Smith who had stopped on the track near the pit entrance.

When the race resumed, fourth running Brian Shirley jumped the berm in turn two. He lost so many spots that he just called it quits and drove to his pit.

It was Shannon Babb who came up second on the restart with Lanigan falling to third. With ten laps in the books Billy Moyer and Tim Fuller formed the top five runners.

With the green flag flying, Richards began to put some distance between himself and the rest of the field. He pulled out to a 20 car-length lead and had his Rocket chassis and had a near-chute advantage when he hit lap traffic just after the twentieth circuit.

Lap 26 saw the yellow again being displayed, this time for Brian Birkhofer who had stopped in turn three.

Birkhofer, who was running 8th at the time had had an incident with Kelly Boen in the previous turn and had sustained enough damage to exit the event.

As the field took the green again, it was evident that second running Babb was experiencing problems as he suddenly began drifting backwards. He soon pulled in to the pits with rear end problems.

The last caution of the night fell on lap thirty-four when Boen spun his car in turn four sending the Colorado driver to the tail. He would make a good come back and finish in the top ten.

On the restart, Richards once again held the point with second running Lanigan and Fuller in a fistcuffs for the runner-up spot. Richards seemed to have completely tuned into the big Knoxville half mile and again began to pull away from the field. However, lap thirty-seven would be his last led lap as he began to slow with handling problems.

Right away Lanigan grabbed the lead and five laps later had lapped the hapless Richards' machine.

When Lanigan took the chechers on lap 50, his nearest challenger Fuller was exiting turn four. The win marked the second win in late model competition at this historic oval by a Kentucky driver. In June of 1972 Chuck McWilliams of Walton (Ky) came home the champion in a hundred lapper.

Third running Steve Francis came from a tenth row start to take third, Billy Moyer who was in this thing the entire way was fourth and Chub Frank was fifth.

In a companion 305 wing-sprint division, Rager Phillips took the top spot just after the half-way point to earn top honors in the A Feature. Phillips took that spot from second finishing Chad Houston, increased it in heavy lap traffic and won going away. Jay Kinder, Marty Stevenson and Ryan Voss completed the top five.

McCarl Celebrates Coming Back Home with a WoO Knoxville Win

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (June 16) Six-time Knoxville Raceway champion Terry McCarl returned to his home track and captured the 25-lap World of Outlaws (WoO) feature event Saturday night. It marked win number 43 at this historic track for the second generation driver as he is now tied with the legendary Earl Wagner for fourth on the all-time list.

Just prior to the running of the A Mains (360s & WoO 410s), track officials made an unprecedented decision to scarify the bottom half of the turns. Hot weather conditions had nearly made the track uncompetitive and dry as rubber began taking to the surface. That work was then watered and ironed in. The one-hour delay was approved of by the crowd in attendance.

At the outset, pole sitter Randy Hannagan was in control of the event. The work on the track provided several grooves with the bottom being significantly better. Three yellow flags by the ten lap mark had kept the race close as Hannagan continued to lead with Kerry Madsen trailing. One of those yellow was for Steve Kinser who had blown an engine as he raced down the backstretch on lap nine. When the field again took the green for lap 10, the yellow was again displayed for Madsen who had exploded a left-rear tire as he passed the start-finish line. This portion of the race appeared to be cursed as yet another yellow flew for Daryn Pittman who spun while fighting for position as he entered turn three, still on lap ten.

Once the race went green again it would not be stopped till the checkered flags flew.

With second running Madsen now gone, McCarl then picked up the pursuit of Hannagan. One could see the rubber again being laid down in turn one and that is where Hannagan chose to run. McCarl began experimenting with different lines but he had to be careful as Craig Dollansky was running right with him.

McCarl's pursuit of a different line was about to pay off as he began to run the cushion which was dangerously close to Knoxville's tall fences. Lap 17 saw him place the nose of his Eagle chassis right on the rear nerf bar of Hannagan. Also playing into his hand was the fact that the leaders had caught lap traffic. Lap 19 saw Hannagan come upon a backmarker in turn two as he chose to take the bottom to make his pass. It was the wrong decision as that car impeded his progress and McCarl, who was flying on the top of the big half mile, cruised by on the outside. Though the front runners remained in lap traffic to the end, Hannagan was never able to cut into the McCarl lead.

At the $10,000 checkered flag, "TMAC" held no more than a 10-15 car-length lead over the runner-up. Once his car was weighed he then took a backwards victory lap and pulled a 360 spin in front of an approving grandstand audience.

Chasing Hannagan was Dollansky. Coming in fourth was Danny Lasoski while fifth went to the defending Nationals champion, Donny Schatz. Schatz struggled in the early portions of the race and in fact fell backward at the outset, but as the race proceeded he seemed to straighten out his problems and began to move forward.

Twenty-third starter, Joey Saldana took passing honors and finished sixth. Stevie Smith was seventh as Tim Shaffer also moved forward to gain eighth. Rounding out the top ten were Jason Meyers and Justin Henderson. Fifty cars signed through the pit gate.

In the 360 feature even, John Schulz led flag to flag in capturing his second career win here. A pole sitter, Schulz was able to keep Matt Moro at bay throughout the 15-lap event.

With the track seeing the WoO feature preceding the 360 tilt, naturally the surface received great abuse and had once again become a "rubber down" oval. Most of the cars hugged the bottom as that was the fastest way around in this final event of the evening.

Schulz beat Moro by no more than five car lengths in his Schneiderman-owned sprinter with Josh Higday taking third. Jeff Mitrisin was fourth and Jake Peters who did try to run the top wound up fifth. Joe Beaver, Dave Hall (masterfully coming from fourteenth on this track), John Kearney, Josh Schneiderman and Rick Ideus completed the top ten finishers. Thirty-seven cars competed in this division.

Midget Nationals/King Doodlebug/360s – Rain

Stenhouse is Knoxville Midget Nationals King Darren Hagen is King Doodlebug as Brian Brown wins 410 Feature
by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (June 23) Ricky Stenhouse placed his name in the Knoxville Raceway record books as he won the 6th Pepsi/Mountain Dew Knoxville Midget Nationals at this Marion County fairgrounds Saturday night. It was a USAC (United States Auto Club) sanctioned event but included co-sanctioning by five additional bodies (BMARA, SMRS, ARDC, RMMRA & POWR).

Darren Hagen took the crown as “King Doodlebug” in a 20-lap feature event which was rain delayed from Friday night. It was the fifth such event staged here. Brian Brown stole the show in the 410 sprints by winning his third of the year here.

Stenhouse rode out three yellow flags during the 25-lap championship feature, the last one being the most crucial. His start from the pole enabled him to grab a lead which he quickly extended as his rivals battled for position behind him. Teammate Levi Jones stayed close at first but then faded slowly as Stenhouse pulled out to a near chute advantage by lap seven. Two laps later a stopped car on the track brought out a yellow flag and bunched the 28-car field for a single file restart.

It was on that restart that Darren Hagen made a pass of Jones to take the runner-up spot. Hagen was able to stay with Stenhouse but was never able to challenge for the lead. Just past the half-way mark a light drizzle threatened to dampen the event but the constant turning of laps kept the track in fine racing condition. That precipitation would drift out of the sky to the end of the race.

With Hagen behind Stenhouse, the race became a two-car battle with the leader maintaining no more than a five car-length advantage. Too, it must be noted that Kevin Swindell had come from twentieth to record a seventh running position. He seemed to be the only one running the bottom and that allowed him to move forward on the pack.

Lap 18 saw the second caution flag as second running Hagen blew a right-rear tire. He was unable to restart with the field.

With Hagen's demise, that put Jerry Coons, Jr. on the tail of Stenhouse. Once again it turned into a two-car fight for the Nationals title. Both drivers were on the cushion and Coons seemed to be waiting for the Stenhouse mistake that never came.

Just when it looked like the drama was over, the final and most critical yellow flew for a stalled car on the track. That meant a green-white-checkered run to the finish.

Stenhouse was up to the challenge and brought his Tony Stewart Racing Enterprises to the finish stripe by about 10 car lengths over the Coons machine. The win was worth $3,350 to the youngster. Completing the top five were Davey Ray, Jones and Swindell. A look at the remainder of the top ten showed Brady Bacon, Danny Stratton, Mike Hess (from 26th), and Don Droud, Jr. Sixty-two cars competed in the eleven event program.

Darren Hagen became "King Doodlebug the 5th" after taking a later race lead in the 20-lap event. From the outset the race belonged to Don Droud, Jr. who survived three reds and two yellows to lead the first 18 laps of the race. Terrifying tumbles were taken by Brad Loyet and Alfred Galedrige, Jr. in separate incidents. Also bringing stoppage to the event were Kevin Swindell and Jerry Coons, Jr. who got together in the same accident.

Through all of this, Droud was able to keep control of the race and by lap five could claim a 10 car-length lead. He had doubled that advantage at the tenth circuit and was trailed by Hagen, Dustin Morgan, Levi Jones and Brady Bacon. Those same cars found the cushion on this tremendously fast track to be the quickest route around the half-mile oval.

As the laps wound down the race seemed to be in Droud's pocket. Then on lap 19 the final caution flew and the restart would be the undoing of Droud. Hagen dove low on that restart as Droud stayed on the cushion. Hagen's momentum propelled him into the lead as he ran into and out of turn two. There was nothing Droud could do except hope for another restart which did not happen.

Hagen claimed the $1,650 prize money and the title by no more than 5 car lengths. Droud settled for second, Morgan was third, Jones took fourth and Stenhouse rounded out the top five.

In a near-duplication of the previous race, Skip Jackson was able to survive all that the event threw at him, except for the final yellow flag. The former Aussie/American took the lead at the outset and by the five-mile mark he could claim a 15 car-length lead. At this point he was chased by Jon Corbin, Brown, Mark Dobmeier and Dusty Zomer.

On the 13th go around Corbin came upon a slower car in lap traffic and Brown was able to make a pass out of turn two to take the runner-up spot. Once in second, Brown began his running down of the leader as they diced through lap traffic. Though Brown was coming ever so close, Jackson looked to be the winner on the final lap until the yellow flag came out.

It was a green/white/checkers restart and Jackson took the first but could not hold off what appeared to be a stronger Brown mount on this night. Brown managed a narrow margin for his win in the WiseGuy Motorsports Maxim/Kistler to record his ninth career win here. Jackson, Zomer, Dobmeier and Corbin completed the top five. Following them were Rager Phillips (from 12th), Calvin Landis (from 11th), Dennis Moore, Jr., Jack Dover and Ricky Logan (from 13th). 31 cars competed in the 410 portion of the program. No 360 events were held.

Brown and Johnson are Knoxville Mid-season Champs

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (June 30) Brian Brown and Wayne Johnson each captured Mid-Season championships in their respective divisions at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night.

For Brown, who won here last week, it appeared to be a night to cruise around the half-mile oval in his Maxim/Wesmar. He had grabbed the lead on lap six after first Jon Corbin had held it for two laps and then Skip Jackson led the point for three. "Brownie" slid Jackson in turns one and two and had the lead for the rest of the way in this 25-lap event.

Jackson followed him in second until 13th starter Ricky Logan, who was running the bottom, made a pass for the runner-up spot on lap twelve. By this time Brown had cruised to nearly a full chute lead on this big half mile.

Brown, who was running the top of the track (which is a 5/8) began to be reeled in by Logan who was running the bottom (a true 1/2). Logan, a master at finding a line on the bottom soon began gaining on the leader and by the fifteenth circuit of the 25-lap event, Logan had pulled to within five car lengths.

With lap traffic now a part of the picture, one could assume that Brown would become impeded sooner or later. That assumption did happen but always Brown was able to place a car between himself and Logan. Lap 19 saw Logan make a bid for the lead in turn three, but Brown was quicker coming out of turn four. Laps 22-24 found Logan making further bids to pass, but again, Brown was able to block in the turns as he realized Logan was after his spot.

In the end, it came down to the last lap and Logan fell short by three car lengths. Brown took the win (his 10th here) and a hefty pay day of $3,500. Jackson held a strong third, Dusty Zomer registered fourth and Calvin Landis was fifth. Jack Dover (started 16th), Mark Dobmeier (started 14th), Brent Antill, Clint Garner (started 19th) and Billy Alley completed the top ten finishers on this racy track.

The companion 360 sprint feature saw Wayne Johnson spank a field of twenty cars in that 20-lap event. Johnson, who had not raced a 360 sprinter here for nearly five years, started in the 12th position and provided some quick fireworks for the attending audience.

Dustin Selvage had the lead for the initial three laps until he lost control after Joe Beaver put a slider on him in turns three and four. Selvage tried to correct his mount in turn four but ended up striking the inside guard rail at the entrance to the pit area.

With Beaver now in command, it was easy to see that he would soon have company in the form of Johnson. A slide job in turn two on lap seven yielded a short lead for Johnson but Beaver repaid him the favor in turns three and four to regain the lead. From that point Johnson seemed content to follow until he set another slider in turns three and four which gained him the top spot for good.

From that point Johnson began to pull away from the field. He entered lap traffic on the 14th go around and masterfully conquered it. Two laps later he had a full chute lead over Beaver. Five laps later as he took the white flag, Johnson had close to a half lap lead. The huge and commanding lead was not to be as the yellow flag was shown for a spun car.

On the green/white/checkered restart, Johnson again pulled away and came across the stripe for a $1,500 pay check on what would be the 21st lap. Beaver held for second, Dave Hall took third, Darren Long from Ohio was fourth and Frankie Heimbaugh finished fifth. Completing the top ten were Matt Moro, Jeff Mitrisin, Bret Mather, Josh Higday and Bryan Dobesh.

In trackside ceremonies during the evening, five men were inducted into the 29th annual Knoxville Raceway Hall of Fame. Inductees on this evening were Mackie Heimbaugh, Harrold Annett, Lue Holland, Jimmy Sills and Tom Creason.

Four Different Winners on Twin Features Night at Knoxville
by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (July 7) It rarely happens that a driver can win both ends of Twin Features night and that rule held again at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night. Feature winners were Brian Brown and Mark Dobmeier in the 410s and Matt Moro and Rick Ideus in the 360s. For Dobmeier and Ideus it marked their initial wins at this historic fairgrounds oval.

In the first 16-lap feature, 2007 Knoxville points leader, Dusty Zomer grabbed the lead at the outset while rookie Davey Heskin paced him lap for lap. On circuit number five the cushion ride paid off for Heskin as he took the lead away for two laps, but lap seven saw Zomer take the point back again.

Zomer kept the lead through a yellow-flagged Skip Jackson spin and rode the bottom of the half-mile oval as he now had company in the form of Brown, who was running the cushion. Brown began reeling him in as expectations were high for a great battle between the two.

Then on lap 12 Rager Phillips rode out a terrifying tumble past the flag stand as he and another car had collided at speed as they ran down the front chute. After several long minutes he crawled out of his destroyed sprinter and was later taken to the Knoxville Community Hospital to be checked over.

When the race resumed, Brown was able to get by Zomer as they raced out of turn two and down the backstretch. Brown then began extending his lead at the end in his Wise Guy Motorsport sprinter to collect $2,200 and his 11th career win here. He was followed by Zomer, Alley, Heskin, Calvin Landis and Mark Dobmeier.

The second (inverted by the finish of the first) feature, Brent Antill utilized the cushion to secure the top spot for the first dozen laps. Antill was able to fend off all comers through two yellow flag restarts during this portion of the race. When the race hit laps 13, Mark Dobmeier, who had started thirteenth, took the lead after setting up Antill and sliding him in turns one and two.

One final yellow flag with two laps to go was not enough for anyone to catch the fleet North Dakota driver as he drove to a $2,200 pay day and his first win herein his Lunstra-owned sprinter. He was trailed at the stripe by Lynton Jeffrey, Calvin Landis, Antill, Clint Garner and Kaley Gharst. Brown finished sixth which brought him to within 45 points of taking the 2007 points lead from Zomer.

The first 360 Twin Twelve was dominated by Matt Moro from start to finish. The second generation driver took his father's car to the point at the outset and never relinquished that spot for the six-mile distance. It was only at the end when he came upon lap traffic that Dave Hall was able to place the Moro machine in his sites.

Moro's win was the third in this division here as Hall, Brett Mather, Frankie Heimbaugh and Ryan Roberts followed him to the checkers.

The second $900-to-win 360 feature was inverted according to the finish of the first one. The race saw a four-car melee in turn one at the drop of the green flag. Cars involving Gary Moyer, John Schulz, Russ Hall and Tyler Thompson rode the wrecker's hook back to the pit area. No injuries were reported.

When the race restarted, Tom Lenz collected lap one then promptly blew an engine right at the flagstand. Dustin Selvage took the point on the restart and held that spot until Rick Ideus passed him on a lap five. Ideus slowly pulled away from Selvage and won in his self-owned Schnee to garner his first ever win here. Selvage trailed, followed by John Hall, Bryan Dobesh and Ryan Roberts. Points leader Josh Higday lost an engine during qualifying heat races but still managed to keep his points lead even though he was not racing in either feature.

Garner and Dobesh win Marion County Fair races

by Stacy Ervin

Knoxville, IA – Clint Garner and Bryan Dobesh captured the feature wins in the 410 and 360 sprint-car divisions, respectively, at the Knoxville Raceway in Knoxville, Iowa. The races were contested during the Marion County Fair on Saturday, July 14, 2007.

Garner's second win at the hallowed half-mile was a hard-fought win despite having started on the pole. When the race went green, outside front-row starter and fellow South Dakota resident Dusty Zomer jumped out to the lead. The first yellow flag of the event came out on the third lap when Mike Moore looped around at the exit of turn two with a flat left-rear tire.

When the 20-lap race restarted, Garner tried a slide job on Zomer but could not make it work. Zomer began coming to lapped traffic at lap seven with Garner and Calvin Landis giving chase. Jack Potter pulled his ailing machine to the pit area not long after. Meanwhile, Garner made slight contact with a lapped car in turn two as he chased Zomer through traffic.

The yellow flag returned on lap 11 when melee ensued all over the track. The yellow was called for Ricky Logan, who had stopped in turn three with a blown tire. Billy Alley had slowed to a stop at the same time in turn two with a broken nose wing. Ryan Anderson had also hit the fence at this time.

On the restart, Garner and Zomer continued to use slide jobs, with Garner leading the 13th circuit. Zomer got the lead back again the next time around as Garner was under heavy pressure from Calvin Landis.

The yellow came back on the 14th lap when Brent Antill, Davey Heskin and Bronson Maeschen got together down the frontstretch. When the race resumed, Zomer and Garner continued their side-by-side racing, nearly getting together in the fourth turn. Meanwhile, Brian Brown was on the move and chasing the duo.

Garner wrestled the lead away on the 16th lap and held it through the finish while Brown chased Zomer. Brown got the second spot away and Zomer settled for third. Landis was fourth and Kaley Gharst fifth. For his win, Garner got $3,000 and the traditional Marion County Fair win of a half hog and half beef.

For Dobesh, his win in the 15-lap 360 A-Main was a surprise gift.

Polesitter Josh Schneiderman led all the laps of the event and actually crossed the finish line first. However, Schneiderman was later stripped of what would have been his first win when heads on his machine failed a post-race inspection.

The race was a mostly single-file affair early on. On the seventh lap, the yellow flag came out for Tyler Thompson, who slowed to a stop on the backstretch and did not restart.

Mostly single-file racing continued in the front of the pack when the race resumed. On the 11th lap, Rick Ideus, who had won a feature last week, dropped from the race in a puff of smoke while running seventh.

After that, Schneiderman looked to be cruising to victory when the yellow flag returned just as the leader was entering turn three on the way to the checkered flag. Nate Mosher had lost a right-rear tire and it was bouncing down the track.

That set up a green, white, checkered finish, but Schneiderman held the point over Dobesh. After Schneiderman was disqualified, Dobesh garnered the $1,250 in addition to the traditional fair-time winning of a half hog and a half beef. Dustin Selvage was second, Johnny Anderson third, Josh Higday fourth and Jeff Mitrising fifth. Schneiderman was relegated to a last-place finish.

Christensen is 16th Harris Clash Champion

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (July 19) Clayton Christensen led the distance to take the 25-lap 16th annual Harris Clash at Knoxville Raceway Thursday night. The Spencer, Iowa driver was paid $2,000 for his efforts in this IMCA sponsored event.

Early caution flags slowed the event but once the green flew after the final yellow at the completion of lap ten, the Clash lived up to its name. For one thing, second running Dave Trauenicht had come all the way from row seven to challenge Christensen for the top spot. Lap 12 saw fifth running Todd Shute make an incredible run from a 26th position start to come into the mix.

Knoxville's big half mile found Christensen on the top while Trauenicht hugged the pole. By lap 15 the leader had begun to pull away from his challengers. Shute, who found the bottom to his liking, was stymied in his efforts to progress forward as two cars blocked his progress. Three circuits later Shute had finally gained the runner-up spot and he then proceeded to run-down the leader.

With the gap between first and second place becoming narrower and narrower, the grandstand crowd could sense a battle to the end. Indeed, the leaders did not disappoint.

Shute took the white flag first but Christensen was not done. As they roared around turn two and down the backstretch they were side by side. Later Christensen would say that he was not about to let this one slip away. When they shot into turn three, Christensen floored it and shot deep into the turn. Shute, who was coming upon a lapped car, was not able to force the issue.

As the top running duo rounded turn four it was obvious that Christensen had a slight advantage. When he crossed the finish line at the end of twenty-five laps he could claim no more than a two car-length separation between himself and Shute. Shute was paid $1,700 for the runner-up spot. Brett Ladenhoff took the $1,500 third place money after being in the hunt the entire race. Fourth went to Trauenicht who gained a $1,300 pay day. Rich Lewerke, another front runner after the five-mile mark, received $1,100 for fifth.

In the companion Sports Modified division, 14-year-old Brett Moffitt of Grimes picked up his 17th win of the season to claim the $500 first place prize. Moffitt is now in the Knoxville Raceway history books as being the youngest driver ever to win a feature event at this storied fairgrounds oval.

Moffitt took the lead on lap seven of this 15 lapper and used the bottom to pull away from his nearest challenger, who was later disqualified for illegal parts. Thus, the runner-up spot went to Ryan Lundy. Third place went to Jason Mallicoat. Fourth place was also DQ'd and that spot was awarded to Brian Miller. Scott Davis took fifth.

120 cars filled the Knoxville pit area on this night.

Tatnell and Moro Find Victory Lane at Knoxville

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (July 21) Brooke Tatnell and Matt Moro found pots of gold at the end of their rainbows Saturday night at Knoxville Raceway. Tatnell's pot contained $3,000 and Moro's was stuffed with $1,250.

Tatnell, who took the night off from running with the World of Outlaws, started in the fifth slot when the twenty-lap feature event went green. He quickly found himself behind the race leader Larry Pinegar and trailed at a short distance. Both drivers toured the big half-mile oval on the top side with Bronson Maeschen in tow.

On lap eight Tatnell, a driver from San Suci, Australia pulled a slider in turns one and two taking the lead from Pinegar. Down the backstretch Tatnell flew and dove low when he reached turn three. Pinegar took that same turn on the high side and as they made their way toward turn four, Tatnell came upon a lap car and was momentarily hindered. That gave the momentum back to Pinegar who came under the flagstand first.

Two laps later Tatnell had regained his focus and as those two cars again roared down the front chute this time the lap belonged to the Aussie. Before another lap could be completed, the yellow flag was displayed for a stopped car on the track.

When the race resumed, Dusty Zomer made a pass of Pinegar and picked up the chase of the race leader. Zomer tried to make a race of it but Tatnell began to pull away with the lead. At lap 15, the yellow was displayed when fourth running Ricky Logan blew a tire while negotiating into turn one. Maeschen, who was directly behind him nearly became entangled with the hapless Logan mount. Then, on the restart, the side board of the top wing on Logan's car tore off bringing out the caution flag one more time. This time Logan was not able to re-enter the race.

Once the race went green again it stayed green until the checkered flags flew for the winning Tatnell. Zomer took a solid second, Calvin Landis was third, Brian Brown advanced from an eight spot start to take fourth and Skip Jackson, a sixth row starter claimed fifth. Completing the top ten were Lynton Jeffrey, Pinegar, Kaley Gharst, Dion Hindi and last row starter and B Main winner Travis Cram.

The companion 360 sprint division found Matt Moro taking the fourth Knoxville win of his career. He was trailed all the way in this 15 lapper by Ryan Roberts. Both drivers started on the front row. Moro was never truly threatened in this event until he came into lap traffic just after the four mile mark. That is when Roberts began to cut into his comfortable lead.

With time and laps running out, Roberts closed the once sizable Moro lead to just five car lengths. What may have led to an exciting finish was possibly thwarted when a yellow flag was displayed for a stopped car on the track.

The single file restart saw Moro again take off on the cushion which on this night was the fast way around this historic oval. Roberts trailed at a short distance but could never mount a charge that would lead to a pass. For Moro, it was his second win of the season here. For Roberts, a rookie here, it was his career best at this track. Rookie Bryan Dobish took third while another rookie, Russ Hall was fourth. Points leader Josh Higday finished fifth. Nate VanHaaften, John Kearney (started 14th), Dave Hall, Joe Beaver (started 13th) and Mike Houseman, Jr. completed the top ten.

It was announced during the evening that Yvonne Sonner, wife of long-time car owner Gil Sonner had passed way. Gilly and Yvonne were fixtures at Knoxville Raceway since the 1960s.

Dobmeier and Roberts are Winners in Knoxville Sprints

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (July 28) Mark Dobmeier won his second feature event of the season while Ryan Roberts took his initial feature win here at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night.

Dobmeier, a rookie 410 sprint car driver at this central Iowa fairgrounds half-mile track, took the lead at the outset and never relinquished it through two yellows during the ten-mile sprint. A row one start enabled the Grand Forks, North Dakota driver to take the point position at the outset. Fellow front row starter Brent Antill followed but could not keep up the pace that the leader set.

A yellow after lap six for a slowing Calvin Landis bunched the cars into a single-file restart. Dobmeier had mounted a sizable lead at this point only to have it melt with the caution period.

On the restart, second running Antill and third place Brian Brown fought it out for the runner-up spot as Dobmeier began to pull away once again. Brown took that second place spot on the eighth go around and set his sights on the leader. He was unable to make up any of the lost ground and in fact by the half-way point was nearly a full chute behind the fleet Dobmeier.

Lap 13 saw Dobmeier enter into lap traffic in his Lunstra J & J and Brown began to close the gap. Lap 15 saw Brown trail by a mere ten car lengths. That was when the yellow was again displayed, this time for debris on the track. As it turned out, the debris was from Dobmeier's car (pieces of the torque tube assembly).

The loss of parts did not seem to slow the North Dakota driver as when the race resumed he again pulled away from Brown, who would have to settle for the runner-up spot on this night. Dobmeier received $3,000 for his efforts.

Brooke Tatnell (from 10th), Wayne Johnson (from 9th) and Lynton Jeffrey completed the top five finishers on a track which saw the cushion as the fast way around. Rounding out the top ten were Antill, Skip Jackson, Dion Hindi, Ricky Logan and Jack Dover. Thirty-one 410 sprints signed through the pit gate.

The 360 sprint field swelled to 38 cars as several new teams arrived at Knoxville to compete in the 360 Nationals at this track in one week. Pole sitter Ryan Roberts had his hands full in this one as Greg Bakker gave him a run for the money for the first ten laps. Roberts held the cushion even though Bakker would use the bottom to make a race of it. Coming from the tenth spot was Clint Garner who would be a player in this 15-lap feature.

Roberts, from Aurora, Nebraska, fended off every move that Bakker would throw at him. Lap nine saw a blanket finish as Roberts held the top spot by a matter of inches. With ten laps in the books it was Roberts, Bakker, Garner, Matt Moro and Josh Higday. Two laps later Garner had taken the runner-up spot in his chase to the front.

Though he had entered into lap traffic, Roberts was able to guide his self-owned sprinter through the backmarkers as well as keep Garner at bay. Garner attempted several lines on this big half mile but none would work on this night to run down the leader.

The final lap saw Garner follow Roberts on the cushion through turns one and two. At they entered turns three and four several lap cars entered the picture in the bottom groove. That eliminated any chances of a Garner slider as Roberts then came across the finish line to win by ten car lengths. Trailing those two were Bakker, Moro and Higday. Completing the top ten were Bryan Dobesh (from 12th), Nate Mosher, Jeff Mitrison, Russ Hall (from 15th) and John Hall.

Gharst Takes Opening Night of 360 Knoxville Nationals

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (August 2) Kaley Gharst captured the Thursday night opener of the 360 Knoxville Nationals. The former Rookie of the Year of the 410 Knoxville Nationals received $2,000 for the win.

The initial race leader and apparent race winner (as the race drew to a conclusion) was Randy Martin. The 2001 Knoxville track champion took the lead from the outset from his pole position in the 20-lap race. Chasing him at the start was Johnny Anderson who likewise started on the front row. Martin placed his sprinter on the high cushion and slowly began to pull away from the field.

Behind him as the field began to sort out was Matt Moro, Kaley Gharst, Russ Hall and Brian Brown.

After the yellow was displayed for a stopped car on lap five, Martin resumed the point and again took control of the race. Anderson continued to follow behind him but the race everyone was watching was the battle between Moro and Gharst. Through five laps and another yellow flag those two drivers traded slide jobs in turns two and four until Gharst finally took control on the ninth go around. In the meantime Martin was pulling away from the field once again and by the six-mile mark had a fairly comfortable 15 car-length lead.

At this point Brown had moved to third placing Moro fourth, Anderson fifth and B-Main winner Gary Wright was sixth from the tail. With fifteen laps in the books Martin still could claim a sizable lead as he began to chase down lap traffic.

It was lap 18 that all hell broke loose. Just after the top three entered that lap, Brown put a slider on Gharst in turn two to claim second. Martin's lead had melted due to the traffic ahead of him which had impeded his all-out assault on the cushion. In turn two all three of the top cars were nose to tail with Martin getting a good run off the top side.

As Martin entered turn three, Brown must have seen him come upon the slower backmarkers. That is when Brown attempted one more slider and this time it did not work as planned. Just past the scoreboard as they entered turn four Brown rammed solidly into Martin, wrecking both cars and nearly sending Martin over the tall fence and into a billboard. Martin came down hard and tumbled several times before coming to a stop. Both he and Brown were able to walk away from the carnage as a series of "boos" resounded from the grandstand.

When the race resumed, leader Gharst had a great start over second running Wright. Gharst was able to maintain the five-car advantage to the checkers over Wright, who had started 21st in the field. Moro claimed third, Hall took fourth and Anderson finished fifth. Rounding out the top ten were Dale Blaney (started 22nd), Scott Winters, Travis Rilat, Bryan Howland and Jared Smith.

Stewart Wins Night Number Two of 360 Nationals

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (August 3) Shane Stewart waited patiently for his turn and when it came he took it as he captured the Friday night edition of the 17th annual 360 Knoxville Nationals. The win paid the roaming Bixby, Oklahoma driver $2,000 for the ten mile sprint.

At the start of the feature event, second row starter Jonathon Allard grabbed the lead as he roared by pole-sitter Brett Mather as they exited out of turn two just after the initial green starting the race. By lap two Stewart had already come into contention from his fifth position start as he claimed the runner-up spot.

On a track that saw the bottom go away, the top five runners all circled the big half mile on the top side where the cushion had come mighty close to the fences. With five laps down, Allard's lead had dwindled to a mere five car lengths. He led Stewart, Mather, Wayne Johnson and Clint Garner.

Stewart's "turn" came on lap eight as he surged out of the bottom of turn four. That maneuver in that turn on that lap gave him the lead, a position he would keep to the end of the twenty-lap preliminary event.

Just after the half-way point, the only red flag of the event was displayed for an incident in turn two. Third running Wayne Johnson attempted to overtake the runner-up spot from Allard. With the track slicking over, a slide job would be the only way to get the job done.

As Johnson slid into turn two, he made contact with Allard. Allard's sprinter spun and rolled over. Johnson spun sideways and came to a halt in the middle of the track. It looked like everyone would miss him until B Main transfer Justin Barger clipped the front of Johnson's machine. Allard was done for the night but after repairs, both Barger and Johnson continued to race.

When the race resumed, Stewart again assumed control with Garner in pursuit. Garner attempted to make a slide of Stewart in turn two of that restart but it failed to produce results. Behind that duo Jason Johnson waited for either of those top runners to make an error he might take advantage of. That never came.

Lap 13 saw Higday side to fourth as the top runners continued to fly around the top of the track. Everyone awaited the surge into lap traffic to see how the leaders would handle it. All the top runners managed the backmarkers with no problems and no positions changed. Even the white flag lap, which saw Stewart come upon heavy lap traffic, did not change the running order.

Stewart claimed his first 360 career checkered flag at this central Iowa fairgrounds with the win as Garner, a fifth row starter, finished second. Jason Johnson was third, Higday claimed fourth and Mather took fifth. Completing the top ten were Darren Stewart, Greg Bakker (started 13th), Chad Meyer, Skip Jackson and Garry Lee Maier (started 15th). A total of 61 cars took qualifying time trials.

Stewart Claims 17th 360 Knoxville Nationals

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (August 4) Shane Stewart, calling Indianapolis, Indiana his temporary home, won the 17th annual ASCS (American Sprint Car Series) 360 Knoxville Nationals at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night. Stewart received $10,000 for his win.

The start of the 25-lap championship race was red flagged when New Yorker Bryan Howland struck the third turn fence on the first lap. He was unable to restart. Johnny Anderson also went pitside during this stoppage.

When the race went green again, front-row starter Shane Stewart took the point. Pole sitter Josh Higday ran second and Gary Wright was third. On the next go around Wright slid Higday in turns one and two and began to chase the leader, Stewart.

By lap four Wright had given up running the top where Stewart was. Instead he circled the half-mile oval on the bottom and began closing in on the Oklahoma native. Lap six saw them running nose to tail as they flew past the start-finish line. The same scenario played out on the following laps until the yellow flew on lap 10 for Justin Barger who had stopped just off the turn one apron. At this point the two front running cars were followed by Higday, Matt Moro, Wayne Johnson, Jason Johnson and Brian Brown.

One more lap was run only to have the caution shown for debris on the track.

The restart saw Wright grab the lead away as Stewart chose the bottom and faltered in turn two. Wright flew by him on the high side to take the top spot. With the lead, Wright chose to run the high cushion as Stewart went to the bottom. That's the way it stayed until lap 15 when Stewart roared out of turn four on the bottom having inched ahead of the Wright machine at that point.

Having regained the lead, Stewart stayed on the bottom. On the 17th circuit he entered into lap traffic and found that not to hinder his progress as he seemed to be able to take the Mike Doyle Maxim just about anywhere on the track surface. With twenty laps down, Wright, of Hooks, Texas was still within striking distance and when they flew by the flag stand he was only five car lengths to the rear.

When the end looked to be in sight as the white flag flew, a final yellow was displayed for Brian Brown who had come to a smoking stop in turn four. At that time he was scored to be in seventh place after having started eighteenth.

Knoxville rules show a green-white-checker finish to be called for in a situation like this which meant that the race would actually go 26 laps. That would pose no problem for Stewart as he stayed on the bottom on those final laps and came across as the victor of this 17th annual event.

On the final circuit, Wright was passed by Wayne Johnson (Oklahoma City) as those two finished second and third. Johnson had started ninth. Jason Johnson (no relation) took fourth and Kaley Gharst was fifth. Rounding out the top ten were Higday, Travis Rilat, Scott Winters (started 20th), Moro and Jonathan Allard (started 24th).

The E Main went to Jonathan Cornell, the D Main to Eric Baldaccini and the C Main to J.D. Johnson. Justin Barger was the winner of the B Main. The crowd was estimated to be at 6,000.

Gharst Captures final tune-up for 47th Knoxville Nationals

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (August 4) Kaley Gharst took the annual “tune-up” for the Knoxville Nationals as he won the 20-lap 410 feature event at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night. The seven-event card for 410 cui sprinters was held simultaneously with the 17th annual 360 Knoxville Nationals.

Front row starter Jeff Mitrison took the lead at the start and was chased closely by Californian Tim Kaeding. With two laps in the books, a yellow was displayed for Travis Cram who had lost a left-rear tire. During this same incident Californian Jonathan Allard spun in turn two. Both cars restarted on the tail of the 24-car field.

When the race went green again, Mitrison again held the top spot with Kaeding in second and Gharst suddenly surging to third. Though the Kaeding machine suddenly began smoking a great deal, he was able to keep pace with the leader.

On a track which was by no means worn out from two divisions racing on it, most all of the top running cars chose to run the high cushion. Lap six showed Mitrison to have a 10 car-length advantage. That’s the way it would stay with Don Droud, Jr., Davey Heskin, Billy Alley and Ricky Logan trailing.

What had been a 15 car-length advantage for Mitrison at the half-way point of the race, suddenly melted when he came upon lap traffic on lap eleven. One lap later Mitrison went low in turns three and four to avoid those lap cars and he seemed to lose traction. Kaeding pulled even with him and they raced nose to tail as they roared under the flagstand to complete the lap. As they flew into turn one, Mitrison seemed to get somewhat sideways on the cushion and the close following Kaeding went up and over his left rear tire. Both cars slammed into the first turn fence in the wreck. Both machines were damaged too severely to return to action.

On the ensuing restart, Gharst, who had inherited the lead, was able to get a great jump on second running Droud. Gharst was in fact able to pull away in his Bruce Williams Maxim in the remaining laps and win the race by over 25 car lengths. Droud settled for second. Billy Alley (started 9th), Davey Heskin and Ricky Logan completed the top five. Rounding out the top ten were Wayne Johnson (from 18th), Calvin Landis (from 15th), Mark Dobmeier (from 22nd), Dusty Zomer and Jonathan Allard from the tail.

Gharst wins Knoxville Brodix Tournament of Champions

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (August 5) Kaley Gharst is on a roll here at Knoxville Raceway. He has captured three feature events in four days. The latest win was the 9th annual 360 Brodix Tournament of Champions at Knoxville Raceway Sunday night. His other wins were the 360 Knoxville Nationals opener on (Aug. 2) and the 410 weekly sprint feature (Aug 4) on Saturday.

The feature event of the Brodix Tournament saw second row starter Gary Wright take command from the outset of the 30-lap feature event. Wright circled the bottom of the Knoxville half-mile oval on each and every lap while his nearest competitors took to the high cushion. With Knoxville's bottom being a true half mile and the fences holding down the 5/8ths distance, Wright began to pull away in this early sprint portion. He was trailed by Joe Beaver, Chuck Swenson and Gharst.

Lap six saw a yellow for Josh Higday who had stopped against the fence in turn four. He did not return to competition.

On the restart, Swenson was able to shoot low out of turn two and take the lead away from Wright as they shot down the backstretch. Just as Swenson crossed the start-finish line, the yellow again came out for Rager Phillips who had stopped high in turn four. Just as quickly the red flag came out as Toby Chapman struck the fence at turns 3 & 4 right at the scoreboard and began flipping. Neither of those cars returned to the track. Also of note, leader Wright had come into the pit area with a flat right-rear tire. He chose to go to his pit stall rather than change it and start at the rear of the 30-car field.

The single file restart showed Swenson take the point with a great surge much to the dismay of second running Gharst. Swenson was content to circle the track on the high cushion and by lap ten he had a 10 car-length advantage over Gharst. By lap twelve the leaders began to enter lap traffic. The top five at this point were Swenson, Gharst, Garry Lee Maier, Jeff Mitrison and Randy Martin.

At the half-way point Swenson could claim a 20 car-length lead over Gharst, but just a quickly that great margin began to melt as Swenson entered into heavy lap traffic. Lap 17 saw Gharst grab the top spot as he roared out of turn two while Swenson struggled behind some of the backmarkers. Once in front Gharst was able to thread through traffic at will in his Williams-owned machine and pull away from those in hot pursuit.

As the laps began to wind down, the best race for the watching was the struggle for the runner-up spot between Swenson, Mitrison and Maier. In the end, Mitrison would get by Swenson for second and Wayne Johnson (from 15th) would do likewise to Maier for fourth.

At the end of thirty laps, Gharst could claim a full chute advantage in his win on this night. The Brodix title paid the Illinois driver $5,000 for the win. Rounding out the top ten were Martin, Joe Beaver, Travis Rilat (from 19th) and Bryan Dobish (from 20th). The ninth annual affair saw a total of fifteen 360 sanctioning bodies represented by their drivers in the championship race.

Opening night of the 47th Annual Knoxville Nationals – Rain

Shepard wins 47th Annual Knoxville Nationals opener

by Stacy Ervin

Jeff Shepard of Upperco, Maryland, opened up the 47th Annual Knoxville Nationals with a win for the Pennsylvania Posse on Thursday, August 9. The win came on what became opening night for the biggest sprint-car racing event in the world after heavy rains washed out the Wednesday night qualifying show and delayed it until Friday night. The event is sponsored by Super Clean and presented by Factory Value Parts. Thursday evening's show was courtesy of Weld Racing.

Shepard started on the pole of the 25-lap main event, but did not lead the race until a late-race caution forced a green, white, checkered restart. When the race went green, outside front-row starter Brooke Tatnell jumped out to the lead, with Shepard and fourth starter Wayne Johnson duking it out for the runner-up spot. Shepard and Johnson traded that spot a couple of times early on, but when Tatnell came to lapped traffic at lap eight, Shepard closed in from second place.

On the 22nd circuit, Tatnell and Shepard went side-by-side for the lead, but a slower car trapped Shepard from making his move. In turn one the next time by, Lynton Jeffrey put a scare into the leaders as he let off the throttle with mechanical problems right in front of them. Everyone got by safely and that set up a green, white, checkered restart.

On that restart, Shepard went low in turn one to attempt to get the lead away from Tatnell. The two touched wheels going down the backstretch and then Shepard pulled away to the $12,000 payday. Tatnell earned $10,000 for second. Wayne Johnson ran a steady race to finish third.

Paul McMahan set the night's fast time at 14.817. Heat races were won by Brooke Tatnell, Lynton Jeffrey, Randy Martin, Ben Gregg and Greg Wilson. Kenny Jacobs won the C-Main and transferred to the B-Main along with Chad Hillier. Travis Cram won the B-Main and transferred to the A-Main along with Stevie Smith, Terry McCarl and Dion Hindi.

The fifth heat race saw an interesting incident when Brian Brown got together with Nick Smith. That sent Brownie sideways in turn one and he was subsequently T-boned by Ricky Logan, who was then hit by Steve Kinser. Both Logan and Kinser turned over and only Kinser was able to restart. He was also able to secure a transfer spot. In the B-Main, the machine of World of Outlaws favorite Jason Meyers went up in smoke, ending his night. The machine of Knoxville regular Kaley Gharst went up in smoke in his heat race and he was not able to start the C-Main.

Lasoski wins second night of Knoxville Nationals

by Stacy Ervin

Four-time Knoxville Nationals champion Danny Lasoski of Dover, Missouri, won the second qualifying night of the 47th Annual Knoxville Nationals in convincing fashion. The event was originally scheduled to run on Wednesday night but heavy rains forced its postponement until Friday, August 10. The event is sponsored by Super Clean and presented by Factory Value Parts. The second night of racing was courtesy of Nos Energy Drink.

Lasoski started on the pole of the 25-lap main event and led every lap in a race which went green to checkered to earn the $12,000 payday. Defending Nationals champion Donny Schatz came from seventh spot to finish second and garner $10,000. Third starter Jason Solwold finished in third.

Lasoski used the slicked-over track to his advantage, driving the high side until he came to lapped traffic on the fifth circuit. From there, he put on a masterful drive through traffic using all the race track he could. By the 16th lap, Lasoski had built a straightaway lead as Schatz began to challenge Solwold for the runner-up spot.

Smoking machines threatened to bring out a caution late in the race, but that never materialized. Shane Stewart was the first to go as he had to surrender the fourth spot on lap 21 and pull to the pit area. Two laps later, Lucas Wolfe's car began to show smoke as he ran in the sixth spot, but he managed to stay in the race and finish seventh. Then as the white flag flew, Randy Hannagan's machine went up in a huge puff of smoke.

The feature event saw only 23 cars take the green flag as Jonathan Allard suffered mechanical problems on the pace laps and could not start.

Tim Shaffer set the fastest time trial of the night at 15.000. Heat races were won by Chad Blonde, Jonathan Allard, Bob Weuve, Danny Lasoski and Donny Schatz. The C-Main was won by Dean Jacobs, who transferred to the B-Main along with Mike Deavers. The B-Main was won by Tim Shaffer, who transferred to the A-Main along with Randy Hannagan, Brandon Wimmer and Jason Martin.

Nationals favorite Fred Rahmer, who won preliminary night features the past two years, suffered great misfortune in hot laps when he flipped over in turn one. He had to scratch for the rest of the night.

The beginning of the fifth heat race saw Craig Dollansky and TJ Stutts get together and suffer damage. Many crew members came from different corners of the pit area to get Dollansky back out and he was able to transfer to the feature, where he finished fifth.

The B-Main was a rough race to get started, as the first attempt saw a multi-car pileup in turn one with Skip Jackson going over. On the next attempt, Mark Smith tipped over in turn four. One lap got in the books before Matt Wasmund tagged a slowing car and tipped over.

The Factory Value Parts World Challenge, a special event for drivers who qualify through various international events, accompanied this night's qualifying program. The 16-lap event was won by Ohio's Dean Jacobs.

Madsen wins Nationals non-qualifiers feature

by Stacy Ervin

Australia's Kerry Madsen won the 15-lap non-qualifiers' feature and a $5,000 payday at the 47th Annual Knoxville Nationals on a track weary from abundant sunshine and steamy conditions on Saturday, August 11. The non-qualifiers' program is normally scheduled to run on Friday night but rain on Wednesday night postponed the show until Saturday afternoon. The event is sponsored by Super Clean and presented by Factory Value Parts. The Friday night show run on Saturday afternoon was presented by Northland Oil.

Madsen started on the pole of the non-qualifiers feature and led all the laps to take the checkered flag around 3 p.m. He came to lapped traffic in the race on the fifth circuit and that allowed fourth starter Jonathan Allard to make a charge. But the yellow flag came out on the seventh lap when Calvin Landis slowed to a stop in turn three with mechanical problems.

When the race went green again, Madsen pulled out to a comfortable lead on the dusty dirt surface. The yellow flag returned, though, on lap 11 for Ryan Farrell and Sean Michael, who got together in turn one. Farrell was able to keep his machine going, while Michael stopped.

After that caution period, the race stayed green and Madsen ran off with the win. Lynton Jeffrey shredded a tire as the field came to the checkered flag, but the leader had already taken the win. Allard was second, Brock Mayes third, Jac Haudenschild fourth and Jason Meyers fifth.

The afternoon show saw a historical first as track-preparation crews reworked the racing surface following the heat races and then did another short run-through following the B-Main. In track history, there has only been one reworking of the track in the middle of a show and that came earlier this season. Track Historian Bob Wilson noted the track has never been reworked in the middle of a show during Nationals.

Non-qualifiers' heat races were won by Kerry Madsen, Brock Mayes, Jac Haudenschild, Jonathan Allard and Jeff Mitrison. Scott Winters won the B-Main and transferred to the A-Main along with Chad Hillier, Clint Garner and Todd King.

Also on the afternoon card were Scramble races for the top qualifiers in the Saturday night C, B and A features. Lance Dewease won the C Scramble while Shane Stewart won the B Scramble. In hot laps for the C Scramble, Jason Johnson suffered a mechanical problem. He was taken to the local hospital with what appeared to be minor injuries and was not able to start the race.

The A Scramble was won by polesitter Terry McCarl, who garnered the $7,000 payday. The finish of that event showed defending Knoxville Nationals champion Donny Schatz as the apparent polesitter for Saturday night's finale, with Paul McMahan to his outside.

Schatz makes it two in a row at Knoxville Nationals

by Stacy Ervin

Defending Knoxville Nationals champion Donny Schatz of Fargo, North Dakota, made it two in a row just before midnight on Saturday, August 11, 2007, at the 47th Annual Super Clean Knoxville Nationals presented by Factory Value Parts. The happy winner celebrated with family and friends in victory lane and led photographers to believe he would climb the fence before collecting the $150,000 payday.

During the course of the exciting race, Schatz built a four-and-a-half second lead on second-place finisher Joey Saldana of Brownsburg, Indiana, and third-place finisher Terry McCarl of Altoona, Iowa. Saldana, who also finished second to Schatz in 2006, collected $75,000 and McCarl collected $37,000.

When the green flag dropped on the 30-lap championship main, outside front-row starter Paul McMahan got a slight advantage over polesitter Schatz, but Schatz used a big slide job in turn four to lead the first lap. The red flag came out just after that, though, when Travis Cram got sideways in turn one and collected Tim Kaeding, who took a big tumble. Randy Hannagan was also caught up by the accident as he tried to race from the back of the field. Hannagan and Cram were able to restart.

After the restart, Schatz was on a rail on the extreme high side of the half-mile, building about a half-straightaway lead before the yellow flag came out on the seventh lap for a slowing Shane Stewart in turn four. His crew changed an MSD box, but his motor would not re-fire. Also at this time, Cram pulled back to the work area and he was able to return to action. However, Stevie Smith stopped on the pace laps with a flat right-rear tire and since the yellow was not thrown for him, he was not given any laps to change the tire and did not restart.

When the race went green again, Schatz again assumed a big lead, while McCarl put a slide job on McMahan for second. Schatz was just about to enter lapped traffic again at lap 12 and allow McCarl a chance to close when the yellow flag returned for Cram, who got into the turn-three wall. He did not restart.

On the restart, McCarl tried to pull a slide job on Schatz in turn two and the pair nearly got together and into the fence. The move allowed Schatz to get away with the lead for another lap before the red flag returned as Jason Martin got upside down in turn one.

On the next restart, McCarl tried again but could not catch Schatz, who came to lapped traffic at the 19th circuit. At the 21st lap, McCarl made a slight bobble on the cushion in turn two while trying to maneuver traffic and that allowed Saldana to slip by for second.

On the 25th lap, Craig Dollansky took third from McCarl, but McCarl made a big charge late in the race to gain the podium spot back. Knoxville regular Brian Brown made a charge from the back of the pack after transferring in from the B to finish 13th and garner the Hard Charger Award.

Randy Hannagan of Pittsboro, Indiana, led all 22 laps in a dramatic B-Main and transferred to the night's big show along with third starter Shane Stewart of Bixby, Oklahoma, 10th starter Brian Brown of Grain Valley, Missouri, and eighth starter Tim Kaeding of San Jose, California. Hannagan started on the pole of the event and took the lead, coming to lapped traffic at lap seven. From there, he drove through heavy traffic until the 15th lap when the yellow flag came out for Toni Lutar, who spun sideways in turn one. After the next lap was completed, the yellow returned for Tony Bruce Jr., who drove into the turn-two fence with a broken Jacobs ladder and steering box damage. The drama came on the 17th lap when Brandon Wimmer, who had been in the fourth and final transfer spot, tried a slide job on third-place runner Chad Kemenah and the two got together. The duo went for a vicious crash into the turn-one wall. That handed Kaeding and Brown transfer spots and Brown made the most of the opportunity, passing Kaeding at the end of the race for insurance. Daryn Pittman and Justin Henderson gave thrilling performances in trying to make the show, as Pittman came from 18th starting spot to finish fifth and Henderson came from 22nd starting spot and a transfer from the C-Main to finish sixth. Ironically, Henderson may not have started the B-Main if not for a crash by the early leader of the C.

Lance Dewease of Fayetteville, Pennsylvania, won the 15-lap C-Main and transferred to the B-Main along with sixth starter Justin Henderson of Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Dewease, who started fourth, inherited the lead just before the halfway mark when race leader Mark Dobmeier suffered a vicious crash. Skip Jackson was unable to start this race after losing a motor in hot laps. When the race went green, polesitter Seth Brahmmer got a bit sideways and that allowed outside front-row starter Dobmeier to gain the lead. The first few laps of this event were a little wild as there were several near accidents while the cars jockeyed for position. The only stoppage, however, came when Dobmeier's car turned head-on into the turn-one fence at lap six and sent him flipping violently into the wall. The culprit was the right-rear wheel, which broke in half.

Ryan Farrell of Perth, Western Australia, won the night's D-Main after leading all 12 laps. He transferred to the C-Main along with second-place finisher Travis Rilat of Forney, Texas. Matt Wasmund, who had earned a transfer spot from the E-Main, was unable to start this race. When the green flag dropped, polesitter Farrell got out to the lead, but the yellow flag came out after one lap was in the books when Farrell's teammate Kaley Gharst went up in smoke and suffered broken steering in turn two. On the restart, cars got stacked up and the yellow came out after the second lap when Jan Howard stopped in turn three with a flat right-rear tire. The next restart attempt was called back after Calvin Landis hit the restart cone and was forced to restart at the rear, giving up his seventh-place spot. Farrell again led when the race went green, but the red flag came out on lap seven. First, Davey Heskin, who was running in the second and final transfer spot, got sideways with a broken torsion arm. Soon after, Clint Garner came flipping along turn four. At this time, Jesse Hockett was called to the work area when officials thought he had lost his fuel cap. He was deemed to be fine and got his running spot back. Tony Shilling also came to the work area to repair damage to his nose wing which had been suffered in an earlier incident. Heskin and Shilling were able to restart. Garner did not restart but was able to climb out of his machine. When the race went green again, Farrell built a huge lead and took the win.

Chris Schmelzle of Victoria, British Columbia, Canada, opened the night with a flag-to-flag win in the 10-lap E-Main. He transferred to the D-Main along with second-place finisher Matt Wasmund of Jackson, Minnesota. Wasmund started on the pole of the event with Schmelzle to his outside. When the race went green, Schmelzle got the lead and held it as Wasmund was challenged by Rager Phillips. The only yellow flag of the event came out on lap six when Neil Shepherd stopped at the backstretch pit gate.

The award for Best Appearing Crew went to Rob Chaney's crew. Second place went to Paul McMahan's crew and third place to Tony Bruce Jr.'s crew. The Mr. Sprint Car title went to Wayne Johnson, who amassed enough points in 10 nights of racing during Southern Iowa Sprint Week to top the standings. Sam Hafertepe Jr. was named Rookie of the Nationals.

Two New Winners Claim Loot at Knoxville Raceway

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (August 25) Two new faces graced victory lane at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night. Winning feature events were Dion Hindi and Chad Meyer, each grabbing his initial feature event victory here at this central Iowa race track.

Hindi, a World of Outlaws regular who did not travel with that organization to the West Coast, started on the front row and led the distance in the twenty lap event to carry away the $3,000 first place prize money.

When the green dropped on the event, Hindi raced to the cushion as Brian Brown, who started right behind him had enough momentum to try to slide him in turn two. Hindi then out-dragged Brown down the backstretch for the lead with "Brownie" beside and below him. Brown tried to shoot low in turns three and four but again Hindi's momentum gave him the lead as he exited turn four with the lead on lap one.

With the lead secured, Hindi roared around the Knoxville's big half mile on the high cushion as did second running Brown and third running Jack Dover. On lap seven Hindi entered the backmarkers of lap traffic but encountered no problems. One circuit later, Wayne Johnson made a pass of Dover to take third. Dover tried to regain his lost spot and actually did but in the fourth turn of lap nine a bumping incident between those two drivers brought out the red flag when Dover went upside down. Amazingly, Dover was able to repair his mount (only a top wing was damaged) and he reappeared on the track at the tail. Additional problems must have nagged at his machine as he was unable to make up positions and ended up eighteenth.

Once the race went green again, Hindi again pulled away from Brown and the rest of the field. By lap fifteen he enjoyed a two-turn lead. Though he again would encounter lap traffic, this night belonged to Hindi in his self-owned sprinter. In the end he claimed a full chute win over Brown when the checkered flags flew. Johnson claimed third, Billy Alley was fourth and Mark Dobmeier took fifth. Rounding out the top ten finishers were Clint Garner, Bronson Maeschen (who started 20th), Travis Cram, Calvin Landis and Ricky Logan.

The Meyer win came after he took the lead on the second lap from Tim St. Arnold and stayed in front the rest of the way. Right after that lap, the yellow was displayed for John Kearney who had slowed as he exited turn two. Josh Higday, who had started twelfth in the invert, was roaring around the top on the cushion and quickly came upon the hapless Kearney. What looked to be a tense situation saw Higday bounce up and over Kearney's left-rear tire as neither car took a tumble.

Kearney was done for the night but Higday was in trouble with one of his side nerf bars bent and shoved between the right-rear tire and the car's body. Frantic efforts in the work area yielded results as those involved were able to remove the tire, yank the nerf bar off, replace the tire and return Higday to the rear of the field for the restart.

Meyer again led the twenty car field back to green but this restart belonged to Dennis Moore, Jr., who was subbing for Joe Beaver. On this green, Moore zoomed to second as he moved deftly through turns one and two to grab the runner-up spot. Behind him St. Arnold, Bryan Dobesh and John Hall completed the top five running order.

And, that's the way it would stay until lap eleven when Jon Schulz tried to gain the position that Hall held. Contact was made and Hall received the worst of it as he flipped in turn four. He was uninjured but his crumpled sprinter rode the tow hook to the pits.

When the race was restarted again for the last time, Moore was unable to make any headway in his pursuit of Meyer. At the end of 15 laps, Meyer was the victor in his self-owned sprinter and collected $1,250 for his return trip to Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Moore (started 9th) finished second, Dobesh kept himself in the points race by taking third, Schulz was fourth and points leader Higday came from the rear to capture fifth. St. Arnold, Rick Ideus, Brett Mather (started 19th), Russ Hall and Gregg Bakker (started 14th) rounded out the top ten finishers.

Brown and Higday are Knoxville Champs; Landis and Selvage win Features

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (September 1) Calvin Landis and Dustin Selvage won Season Championship features at Knoxville Raceway Saturday night. Brian Brown and Josh Higday were crowned track champions at the 54th annual track championships at this central Iowa race facility.

Landis, who started on the pole of the 25-lap feature event for 410 sprinters, led the distance and was never seriously challenged. After taking the lead when exiting turn two on the initial lap, Landis put his mount on the cushion and slowly pulled away from his nearest rival Travis Cram. Behind him little was changing as most drivers rode the cushion on a very fast track.

On lap 13, just as Landis had marched into lap traffic, the red was thrown for Clint Garner who had struck the turn two fence. He was uninjured.

The restart saw Landis again take control as he was followed by Cram, Skip Jackson, Billy Alley and Randy Anderson. At this juncture Landis did not easily pull away from Cram as both cars cruised the cushion on the big half mile. Further back, Brian Brown and Dion Hindi slowly picked off the competition to move forward. In the end, it was Landis marching through lap traffic in his self-owned car with three laps to go to claim his fourth career victory at this historic fairgrounds track. It paid the Arizona native $4,000 for his efforts. Cram claimed second and $3,000 while Jackson came across the stripe in a close third and pocketed $2,000. Fourth went to 2006 track champion Alley and Anderson was fifth. Completing the top ten finishers was Brown, Hindi, Bronson Maeschen, Kaley Gharst (from 17th) and Dusty Zomer.

Brian Brown became the 54th track champion as he claimed the season points title over Zomer. The title was a sweet finish to the season for Brown and the Doogs Racing team as they fell short in 2006 by a mere five points.

The 360 sprint feature saw a first time winner in driver Dustin Selvage. Selvage is the grandson of former Knoxville Raceway track promoter Ray Grimes. The win was worth $1,500 to the youngster.

Selvage trailed early race leader Jarod Smith in the early going. Most of the top cars found the bottom of the track to their liking in the early going. By lap four Smith's mount began smoking, giving the impression that trouble was ahead. Four laps later just as he took lap eight his engine let go and Selvage inherited the top spot. From that point on in this 20-lap season finale Selvage would never be headed as he built a comfortable lead over second running Gregg Bakker. Baker was never able to mount any kind of threat until the very end of the race when he would take second while finishing right on Selvage's tail in lap traffic. Third went to a steady run by Matt Moro while the same could be said for the fourth place finisher Joe Beaver. Nate Mosher had a career finish at fifth. Completing the top ten were Russ Hall, Pete Crall, Brett Mather, Johnny Anderson and Bryan Dobesh.

If Dobesh had finished eighth he would have captured the 360 track title. As it was, that honor went to Josh Higday who had to sit out the event on the sidelines having blown an engine in hot laps. Though driving as a substitute driver for another team, Higday was unable to qualify for the A main.

Kevin Fee endures annual Fall Enduro to win at Knoxville
by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (September 8) Kevin Fee of Knoxville won the annual Fall Enduro 200 at Knoxville

Raceway Saturday night. He was paid $1,000 for his efforts.

For the first time in the history of the Knoxville Enduro, the event went the distance of 200 laps and was just shy of the two-hour time limit. A total of 64 cars competed in the race, but attrition was high.

Early leader Tony Shilling (Knoxville) lost that position to Mike Goff (Lacona) when mechanical problems forced him to go to the pit area in rapid succession. Goff, who started 50th, was then in solid command by lap 50 and took command of the track and began to lap most of the field.

Goff's lead began to unravel just after the 100-laps mark when he struck a slower moving car and his right-front tire went flat. By lap 115 a new leader was being shown by the scorers with Ryan Humphrey of Oskaloosa taking the point. This development saw a very tight race with Humphrey, Goff and Fee all on the same lap.

By lap 145, Goff's chances for a win began to fade as smoke began pouring from the right-rear fender well. Though he was still at speed he began blowing tires on that side of his enduro car forcing him to the pits on numerous occasions and causing him to fall behind. At this point of the race, attrition had narrowed the field to few more than 15 cars.

By lap 165, the gathered audience knew they had a race on their hands between Humphrey and Fee. Slowly but surely Fee began to reel-in Humphrey on the big half-mile oval until he finally took the top spot on lap 191. Several times the lead was exchanged by those two drivers putting the outcome up in the air. Finally on lap 197 Fee took the lead for good in his 1974 Monte Carlo but Humphrey was still in pursuit. When the checkered flag flew at the 100-mile mark, Fee claimed the win by less than half a car length in a very exciting finish.

Birkhofer captures night one of Late Model Nationals

by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (Sept. 27) Brian Birkhofer of Muscatine, Iowa came on late in the 25-lap preliminary feature to capture the first night of the 4th annual Lucas Oil Late Model Knoxville Nationals.

Front row starter Steve Francis won the drag to turn one to take the point and the opening lap. He was followed by pole sitter and quick qualifier Josh Richards with Billy Moyer in third. In the beginning the top five cars ran the bottom but soon Darren Miller and Shannon Babb (fourth and fifth) took to the top of this over-sized half-mile oval.

Lap five saw the first of only two yellows to be displayed on this event for Darin Duffy who rode the wrecker hook back to the pits.

The restart was solid gold for Birkhofer who had started tenth. When the green waved on the restart Birkhofer passed two cars in turns one and two and came under the flagstand in third. Now, Francis, Richards and Birkhofer held the bottom while third running Miller stayed on top.

Lap 10 was yet another crucial step in Birkhofer's march to the front as he got by Richards with a low move out of turn two on that lap. At this time, leader Francis had a nearly a full chute advantage over the second place car.

Lap 12 saw the final yellow of the race as Chris Spieker came to a halt at the fence at the exit of turn two. On the following restart Birkhofer was unable to make a pass of the leader but the man who did find a line was defending event champion, Brian Shirley. He chose a high route through turns one and two and raced into fourth behind Miller sending Richards to fifth, Darrell Lanigan to sixth and Moyer to seventh.

And that's the way it would stay for nearly ten laps. It was evident that Birkhofer was making a dent in the Francis lead as the Iowan ran the top and the man from Kentucky stayed on the bottom.

On lap 20 Birkhofer made his move as he dove to the bottom of the track in turns one and two and exited with the lead. Once at the point, he stayed there. Once lap later Miller also moved past Francis to take over second. When the checkered flag flew at the end of 25-laps, Birkhofer could count only a two car-length win on this night. He received $6,000 for his efforts on this preliminary night.

Miller settled for the second place check and Francis came across the stripe in third. Babb took fourth and Richards held for fifth. Round the top ten on this first night of competition were Jimmy Mars, Scott Bloomquist, Moyer, Lanigan and Brady Smith.

Alexander charges to front to win 305 Mid-States Knoxville Nationals prelim

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (September 27) Stacey Alexander from Lacona, Iowa came from deep in the starting grid to win the first-ever 305 Mid-States Knoxville Nationals. This was night one of a two-day qualifying format which culminates with a championship on the third night, Saturday

The Thursday night preliminary feature saw front-row starter Trish Dover from Springfield, Nebraska take the point at the start of the race. Fellow front row starter Rager Phillips from nearby Pleasantville, Iowa kept the pressure on as both drivers toured the big Knoxville oval on the bottom of the track. At this point it was a two car race as both drivers switched to the cushion to gain momentum in the exiting of the turns.

On lap five, Phillips made his move and dove to the bottom when they exited turn two and gained the lead with that maneuver. While all this was happening, Alexander, who started 20th had quickly entered into the top ten and was picking off cars with ease. Alexander, a weekly 360 sprint driver at this facility is a Lacona, Iowa native.

In a 15-lap race which went non-stop, Alexander utilized the same passing move Phillips had used, dove low in turn two and exited with the lead on the 10th go around. Once in front he began to pull away from the field as he placed cars between himself and second running Phillips.

As the laps wound down, Alexander pulled away and came across the finish line a full chute ahead of Phillips. He was paid $350 for the win. Third went to Dover as Marty Stephenson (Des Moines) claimed fourth. Eric Todd of Falcon, Missouri was fifth. Rounding out the top ten were Mitchell Moore, Matt Stephenson, Bob Lamb, Steve Breazeale and Clint Garner, who started on the tail of the 24-car field.

Four qualifying heat races were captured by Dover, Shadrach Spora, Bob Lamb and Rager Phillips as several cars were disqualified for incorrect tires. Jack Potter won the B Main. A total of 39 cars participated in the six event preliminary program.

Thursday Late Model Nationals claimed by Shirley
by Bob Wilson

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (September 28) Brian Shirley of Springfield, Illinois captured the second night of preliminary action to the 4th annual Lucas Oil Late Model Knoxville Nationals at Knoxville Raceway Friday night. The win paid the defending event champion $6,000 for his 25-lap drive.

At the outset of the feature, pole sitter Billy Moyer got a great jump on Shirley who started right beside him. Moyer chose the bottom of the big half mile oval as Shirley went to the cushion and third running Brady Smith found a center line to his liking. With the track turning dry slick throughout, drivers could run most anywhere they chose.

Lap seven proved to be an exciting circuit. First, the yellow was thrown for Denny Eckrich and Darren Miller as those two drivers came together and spun to a stop between turns one and two. Both restarted on the tail. Prior to that, Shirley had slid Moyer in very close quarters in that same turn and had actually taken the lead running down the backstretch. However, Moyer, on the high side, regained it as the duo roared out of turn four to face the caution flag that was now being displayed. At this early juncture the top five runners were Moyer, Shirley, Brady Smith, Shannon Babb and Brian Birkhofer.

When the race resumed, Moyer again took control of the point. The Batesville, Arkansas driver had last won here seven years ago and his chances of a repeat were starting to look promising.

At the 10-lap mark it became obvious that Shirley was again closing on Moyer. With Moyer on the bottom and Shirley running the cushion the gap between the two could be spotted as they flashed by the start/finish line on each go around. The Moyer run at the front faded finally on lap fifteen as Shirley grabbed the point when he roared out of turn two. He still had it as he flew through turns three and four, but when they came by the flagstand Moyer held it again. It was just that close.

Shirley took the lead for good on the next circuit but Moyer stayed extremely close. As the frontrunners entered lap traffic, the running order was Shirley, Moyer, Smith, Babb, Birkhofer and Steve Shaver.

As the laps began winding down, Moyer found his hands full with Smith and then Babb too entered the fray. On the final lap Bloomquist made a pass of Babb but that was the only position change among the top running cars.

In heavy lap traffic on the final lap Shirley was able to edge Moyer by little more than one car length. Smith, Bloomquist and Babb completed the top five finishers. Rounding out the top ten were Birkhofer, Shaver, Jimmy Mars, Rick Eckert and Darrell Lanigan.

Garner takes second night of 305 Mid-States Championship

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (September 28) Clint Garner, from Sioux Falls, South Dakota, managed a late race surge to win the second night of the 305 Mid-States Sprint Championships at Knoxville Raceway Friday night. Garner is a regular competitor in the weekly Knoxville 410 sprint division and oft times in the 360 class too.

Front row starter Marty Stephenson took the initial lead from his row one starting position at the drop of the green and held it for two laps. On the third go around third row starter Jack Potter closed the gap while running the high cushion and took the lead as he roared out of turn four and across the start/finish line. At that very moment the yellow came out for a stopped car on the track.

The lap was counted and Potter led the 24-car field back to green. Again he found the top to his liking as Stephenson stayed on the bottom leading Matt Stephenson, Rob Kubli and Rager Phillips in the 15-lap chase to the victory stand.

A second and final yellow was displayed for Phillips when he slowed and stopped in the middle of the backstretch.

On the restart, Potter again held the point with Stephenson in tow but all eyes were on the drive of Clint Garner who had moved all the way from a thirteenth starting nod into third. On lap ten Garner took over the runner-up spot as he began to chase down the cushion-running Potter.

Lap twelve saw Garner slide the Potter machine in turns three and four to take the lead. By this time the leaders were in lap traffic and Garner began to take his sprinter to most any part of the track and run smoothly. In the end he finished at least 10-car lengths ahead of second running Potter. The winner was paid $350 for this preliminary win.

Stephenson remained third, Bob Lamb was fourth after starting 16th and Matt Stephenson finished fifth. Rounding out the top ten were Mark Widmar, Mitchell Moore, Bruce Anderson, Chad Houston (started 24th) and Johnny Anderson (started 21st).

Smith wins Fourth Annual Late Model Nationals; Alexander wins 305 Sprint Championships

by Stacy Ervin

Brady Smith of Solon Springs, Wisconsin, won the Fourth Annual Lucas Oil Late Model Knoxville Nationals at the Knoxville Raceway on the Marion County Fairgrounds in Knoxville, Iowa, on Saturday, September 29, 2007. He garnered $35,000 for the career win, which saw him put on a dominating performance through the last half of the race.

The race had a tough time starting as Chris Spieker slowed to a stop in turn three before a lap could be completed. When it did go green, outside front-row starter and defending champion Brian Shirley took the lead and held off charges from polesitter Billy Moyer and third starter Steve Francis. Shirley hit lapped traffic on lap seven and continued to hold the lead until the 22nd circuit.

Shirley jumped the cushion in turn four on that lap and Moyer took over the lead. Moyer held on through heavy lapped traffic and soon faced a challenge from Smith, who started sixth. Smith led laps 28 and 29, but Moyer got the lead back on lap 30 in heavy traffic. The yellow flag came out the next time around for debris on the race track.

When the race resumed, Moyer continued to lead, getting back to lapped traffic on the 37th circuit. On the 47th lap, Smith wrestled the lead away in turn one and held it through lap 53. Smith jumped the cushion in traffic on the backstretch at that point and Moyer went back to the lead.

Moyer led laps 54 through 57 before he and Smith went three wide with Rick Eckert, who was being lapped, and Smith took the lead at the line. From there, Smith worked on building a substantial lead through traffic, gaining a half straightaway on Moyer by lap 63. By lap 78, Smith was lapping early leader Shirley in 10th place. By lap 84, Smith had lapped up to seventh place and looked to be cruising to victory.

But the yellow returned at lap 97 when Paul Glendenning spun in turn one, erasing Smith's nine-second lead. However, Smith was able to hold off all the charges and get the victory.

Moyer finished second and Francis third. Darren Miller rocketed to fourth. Billy Drake made a late-race pass to get fifth. Brian Birkhofer, who won the inaugural event, finished sixth and was the last driver on the lead lap.

John Duty of Portland, Oregon, won the late-model C-Main. Jeep Van Wormer of Pinconning, Michigan, won the B-Main. Darrel DeFrance of Marshalltown, Iowa, transferred to the B-Main from the C and then raced to the final transfer from the B to the night's main event.

Stacey Alexander came from 10th starting spot to win the 20-lap 305 Mid-States Sprint Championship. The Lacona, Iowa, native won $1,500 for his second-ever win at the hallowed half-mile. Alexander, who has been a longtime regular in the 360 division, won his first race during Thursday night's preliminary qualifying event.

Outside front-row starter Marty Stephenson led the first lap of the event, but polesitter Jack Potter wrestled the lead away on lap two. Clint Garner took over the second spot from Stephenson on lap three and set his sights on Potter. The next time around, Stephenson got into the fence and lost a couple of spots before he coasted to a stop with a flat right-rear tire to bring out the yellow on lap five.

On the restart, Garner tried a slide job on Potter for the lead but did not make it work. And the red flag came out as John Kearney turned sideways in turn one, was hit in the right-rear tire by another car and was then T-boned by Josh Padellford, who flipped violently down the frontstretch.

When the race resumed, Potter held the point as Garner began to face a challenge from Alexander. Potter hit lapped traffic just past halfway and Alexander quickly disposed of Garner and stuck himself on Potter's tail.

When Potter got held up by a slower car on lap 15, Alexander got the lead in turn four and held on to it for the finish. Potter was second with Garner third. The only female competitor in the division this weekend, Trish Dover, ran a steady race to finish fourth.

The 305 A-Main was originally scheduled to see Rager Phillips start on the pole, but he blew his only motor on Friday's qualifying night and was unable to return for the finale.

Kearney won the 305 B-Main, coming from his last-row starting spot and taking the lead at the halfway point.
